Manager of the NEWS.

[For the Daily News. To the Members of the Legislature. Is it not an acknowledged fact that no class of men of any profession is so much in the back ground, none in a worse fix than the farming class of North Carolina. Do they not require all the information that can possibly be given them. And is not the North Carolina Agricultural Society with its Fairs, every October, one of the main channels through which light and information is conveyed to them. Where else can they go to see the improved stock, machinery and other things pertaining to their business.

Is it not the lack of proper information that causes us to send to Massachusetts for butter, apples, hay and many other things necessary for our subsistence. With the same light before us, we would all starve if sent North to make all the machinery and all the provisions, &c. that are furnished us by our Northern brethren. Let us look the truth in the face and acknowledge it.

In conclusion, we cannot believe that North Carolina, through her representatives, really intended to cripple her State Fair by the withdrawal of the little aid once given the Society, and this on a plea of tax-ation. What but low taxation has kept the glorious Old Salet years? back ground for the past fifty years? kept the glorious Old State in the We have slept long enough. wake up and keep pace with our Northern brethren. LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY .-- The Senate yesterday occupied much of its time in the consideration of a resolution, introduced by Capt. C. M. Cooke, of Franklin, inviting a conference of the creditors of the State with the Joint Committee on Public Debt, to be held in this city on the 14th of January. The resolution created much discussion and was finally adopted by a vote of 30 to 15.
The debate evidenced the fact that the Senate is determined to meet the question of the State debt fairly and squarely, and will make the most liberal offer possible to the creditors. In the House a warm debate ensued upon the proposition to authorize and request the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House to investigate the condition of the Westascertain the propriety of the pur-chase by the State of the mortgage bonds of the said road

Mr. Means introduced a bill calling a Convention, containing pretty much the same provisions as those introduced into the Senate a couple

AN IMPORTANT BILL.—One of the most important bills before the Legislature is that requiring a strict examination into the financial condition and reliability of all insurance and trust companies doing business in the State, the report of the exam-iners to be published by the Secreta-ry of the State and to be certified under the seal of his office to the Superior Court Clerks of all the counies, who shall post the same in their offices. There are some hundred companies doing business in the State and it is right that the public should have some guarantee of their reliability. The bill is now on the House Calendar, and we hope that it may become a law before recess. SALE OF THE RICHLAND PLANTA TION.—The valuable farm of ex-Sheriff T. F. Lee, known as the Richland Plantation, located some four miles west of Raleigh, was sold yesterday at public auction at $6,400, the same farm and improvements having cost $23,000. Ten thousand dollars was refused some months since by the Trustees. John Gatling, Esq., was the purchaser. This is thought to be one of the finest farms in the county. The personal property upon the farm brought some $5,000.

The personal property of Mr. Lee in this city will be sold at auction today, and the Exeter farm to-morrow.

Remarks of Mr. Fields. of Alleghany. in the House of Representatives, December 14th. on the Bill to In-crease the Salary of the Superinten-dant of Public Instruction.

MR. SPEAKER:- With due regard for the feelings of the gentlemen who introduced and who advocate the measures of this bill, and with great deference to their foresight and learning, I am forced to say that I very much regret that such a mea-sure should come up for the conside-ration of this House, at any time, and more especially at this, with its pre-sent surroundings. I am sorry, sir, that there is to be found a gentleman on this floor, and more especially one on the Democratic side of the House, who for one moment fondles with the idea that this is the proper time to add nine hundred dollars to the present emoluments of the Superin-tendent of Public Instruction. I am not of the opinion that we have such power conferred upon us by the Constitution of the State. Secondly, the precedents of extravegance and ruin just passed, the cries of our down trodden and tax paying constituents, whose wishes we are here to repre-

our expectant people, all demand that it should not be done. Then as to the unconstitutionality. Article 3, section 15, of the Constitution reads: The officers mentioned in this article shall, at stated periods, shall receive for their services, a compensation to be establish-ed by law, which shall neither be in-creased nor diminished during the time for which they have been elected, and the said officers shall receive no other emolument or allowance whatever. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is named as one of these officers, and when our present Superintendent took upon himself the duties and was sent, and the present fond hopes of inducted into his office, there were certain duties marked out for him, as shown in chapter 78 of Battle's Revisal, and there was at the same time a certain sum allowed him for the performance of these duties, as shown also in chapter 105 of Battle's Re-Long before he went into office, and long before he assumed the responsibilities of his office, and which was the same when he took it, the was the same when he took it, the law made certain duties for him to perform, allowed him a certain amount for performing said duties, and the Constitution steps in right then and there and says "his saftern shall and he diminished to the law that he diminished to the law that he was that he w sclary shall not be diminished, nor shall he receive any other emolument or allowance" whatever during his term of office. The language of the Constitution is plain and pointed, too much so, I think, to be mistaken by any one. In the same clause of the Constitution there is a protection given both to the office holder and to the people who have him to pay. It says in effect that the Legislature shall not have the power to force him to take less for his services than what was stipulated when he took upon himself the burdens of his of-fice, and that the people should not be compelled to pay him more than their contract when they elected him. Then there were certain duties marked out for him to perform and an allowance made him for the perform ance of the whole, and not a part of them, and should we allow him six hundred for the purse of hiring cleaical aid? In all candor, I ask the candid thinking men of this House, is that not us hiring some one else to do what he undertook to do what he is, by law, required to do, and what is his duty? If so, the Constitution says we cannot make this allowance. Suppose that he is not required to do all these duties and is not paid for doing all of them, then what part is he required to do? If he is exempt from performing any part he is ex-empt from all. If he is exempt from all, then we are paying another person for performing the duties of the office—and the officer himself is doing nothing, but still he receives $1,500 per annum. The conclusion, Mr. Speaker, is that we cannot make any allowance, directly or indirectly, unless we violate the provisions of the Constitution, and sir, I am opposed to it in any possible manner.

The people of North Carolina, the working men, the masses who are toiling for a living and who are now tottering and faint under the buidens of taxation and debt, demand of us retrenchment in taxes and salaries. They have been groping in darkness since 1868; they thought they could see a faint ray of light last August, when they found their interests re-presented in these halls by a two-third majority of Democrats.

Is there a member of this House who will cast his vote to help grind more and more those who are wishfully and longingly looking to us for protection. If we do pass this bili, well may the people cry out, "And thou too, Brutus." We who have denounced on all occasions, with almost holy vituperation, "Back Salary Grabs" and "increased salaries," on every hill top, and from the corner of every street, shall we, for our incipient act, strike at the very vitals of our people, by leading off in a train of extravagance? I trust there are more representatives of the people's wishes on this interest of the office-holder's.

I have the honor of representing a farming community, who, of all all others, most need to be protected in their rights, and who will most prosper if relieved from the impending burdens. And, sir, when anything comes up here in the nature of increased salaries, I shall be heard in

I am proud to say that I think the present Superintendent is one of first statemen and purest gentlemen that North Carolina affords, but we have talented and pure men who are receiving no more for like labors.

The age for political pets has passed away in North Carolina, and principle has taken their place, and so long as we are firmly seated upon her we stand. When we run off with party prejudices into corruption, we fall. As we learn nothing better than by example, and as I think we have sufficient examples staring us in the face, I ask that we take them. I appeal to you as North Carolinians, in the name of right, and in justice to those whom we represent let us those whom we represent, let us rather diminish all salaries than increase them. Let not the golden wedge be found in our ranks when we have departed these halls, and are lost in the great masses of the people.

Mr. L. W. Peck has just received and has for sale cheap, a lot of green

THURSDAY, Dec. 17, 1874. Senate called to order at 11 a. m., President Armfield in the Chair. Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Rich, of this city. Journal of yesterday read and ap-

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

Reports were made from a number of Standing Committees. PETITIONS. Mr. Peebles, a petition from cer-tain citizens of Northampton asking a prohibition of the sale of liquor within five miles of both Sharon and Galatia churches in that county. Mr. Cantwell, a memorial from the Publishers of the American Centen-nial, of Philadelphia, asking the State to furnish a steel plate of its Capitol.

Mr. Peebles, a petition from certain citizens of Northampton county, asking a repeal of the law prohibiting the sale of liquor within four miles of Elam church. Referred.

PUBLIC DEBT.

Mr. C. M. Cooke introduced a resolution to appoint a Joint Committee of five of the two Houses, to be comof five of the two Houses, to be composed of five members of the Joint Committee on the Public Debt, to confer with the creditors of the State, in order that some plan may be considered for the adjustment of the public debt. The said committee to meet in Raleigh on the 14th of January next, inviting the bondholders or creditors to meet them at that or creditors to meet them at that

Mr. Peebles opposed the resolution; he favored the proposition made yes-terday by the Joint Committee on Public Debt to offer a compromise to the creditors of the State, but he did not think the conference proposed would accomplish any good.

Mr. Cooke thought the creditors had a right to be consulted in the matter, and that a conference with them might enlighten them as to the exact condition of the State, and thus enable the creditors to act with better knowledge in accepting any proposition that might be made. Mr. Waring said it was the inten-tion of the Committee to make a fixed policy for the State in regard to her public debt. To authorize this conference would make of no avail the labor of the Committee that yes-terday reported. The former Legis-latures had tampered with this question—and the present Assembly must meet the issue fairly and squarely, make the best proposition it could to the creditors, and go back to their con-stituents and tell them that a settlement had been made of the State debt and her honor and reputation sustained—the people would sustain the Legislature and would willingly stand the additional taxation incur-

Mr. Bell sustained the views of Mr. Waring. We had allowed this debt to hang over us until the credit of the State had been ruined and her honor tarnished, and the question should now be met and acted upon fairly and squarely. Mr. Cooke said his resolution did not mean to imply that this question was not to be considered this session. He wanted the settlement made, but he thought the creditors should be consulted, as they might enable the Legislature to act with a more thorough knowledge of what settlement could be made.

Mr. Latham said the Committee in its report had offered all that they thought the State could pay; they had told the creditors what they were willing to do. He meant to abi this proposition, and saw no good to result from the proposed conference. If the bondholders thought fit to accept the proposed adjustment, so well; but this was all he was willing to pledge on the part of the people of North Carolina.

Mr. Morehead thought some good might result from the proposed con-ference. The measure would be dis-cussed at much length when the sub-January, and the views of the credi-tors might be of much value to the Legislature in making up their minds on the question. His people wanted the public debt adjusted. The Com-mittee had ignored the Special Tax bonds; he had hitherto voted against considering them at all, but it would be found absolutely necessary to make some adjustment of these bonds, or the Federal Court might at any time force the payment of the interest upon the same, which would amount to $600,000 a year.

Mr. Peebles said the proposition to meet the creditors, without any definite understanding as to the ability of the State to pay, would amount to nothing. The creditors would not state what they would take, and the conference might only delay action. The substitute of the Committee made a definite proposition, and while it was not perfect, it looked in the direction of a positive adjustment. He did not believe that a sovereign State could be compelled to pay its debt. He did not agree with Mr. Morehead that there was danger of the State being forced to pay her Spethese bonds had been declared a legal debt, but the same court decided that it had no power to force the payment of the principal or interest upon the same. The committee did not think there was any law that could compel the State to pay its debt, but they desired to make such a settlement as the State was ab'e to stand. Let this Legislature adjust this debt and it will not only be approved by the people, but will become a fixed poliof the State. North Carolina might not restore her credit, but she would protect her honor.

Mr. Love moved an amendment that the Committee of Conference be composed of the full Joint Committee of the two Houses. Mr. French supported Mr. Love's amendment, which was adopted.
Mr. Hargrave had no objection to the resolution, other than it would imply that if the creditors were not willing to accept the proposition of the committee that we would be willing to offer more. He did not think State could pay any more, and he for one was not willing to pledge her for any larger amount.

Mr. Marler called the previous question, and the resolution of Mr.

Cooke was adopted by the following vote:

Mr. Staples was opposed to any action on this matter whatever until after recess, that the legislature might look into it. As to the mortgage on this road he knew nothing except from information; he made his remarks in the way of inquity.

Mr. Tate, in reply, explained at some length the financial condition of the road, detailing all the transaclength to sustain his position.

Mr. Bell advocated the bill. He could not agree with Mr. Cooke that this bill would not advance the interests of the farmer. At present the farmers were at the mercy of the la-borer when he had to furnish him with provisions, and this bill would give them some protection. Mr. Kerr sustained the views of Mr. Bell. The requirements that these liens should be written is burdensome to the farmer and works hardship. Pending the discussion of this bill,

Mr. Tate did not wish to detain the House to discuss this question rela-ting to the Western N. C. Rallroad, but he did want to enlighten the House in regard to certain matters pertaining to the affair of this Read; that it had been in the hands of a re-ceiver, and thousands of dollars had been given out to Attorneys and others, and he thought it nothing but right that these matters should be in-vestigated and set right.

Mr. Moring was of the opinion that this matter was as fully under-stood from the declarations made on this floor as if more fully, investigated by the presiding officers of the two houses. He did not think we were justified in taking this come in recognizing these claims.

Mr. Tate had no personal interest in the matter, but he did think the State should make an effort to reque the State's interest in this Road from the hands of the cormorants, who now control them. Mr. Tate had no objection to the appeal being taken, but he thought the matter could as well be adjusted by this body.

Mr. Staples wished to know where the gentlemen got their information that these bonds could be bought for some one

Mr. Staples did not see the propriety of appointing gentlemen from the Legislature to look into this matter when they could accomplish nothing when they could accomplish nothing.
He did not belong to any railroad ring at Greensboro or to any other railroad ring; what he wanted was prompt and decisive legislation on railroad matters; thought it might be better for the State to cut itself loose from all railroad connections in

Mr. Tate said that there was an intent here adverse to the State's interest. He did not ask this Legislature to buy, but he did want some of the officers of this body to investigate and look after the State's interest.

look after the State's interest.

Mr. Mebane spoke in favor of the resolution. He wanted information on these railroad claims, and hoped the resolution would pass.

Mr. Means did not propose to resort to any masterly inactivity in these matters, and further, when these officers of this Legislature go to these officers of this Legislature go to these officers of this Legislature go to these bondholders, they will be recognized and our claims fairly considered.

Mr. Pinnix said that he wanted to know if any member wished to cast a scintilla of doubt as to his position in this matter.

Mr. Walker moved as a substitute, that a Committee of five on the part that a Committee of five out he am of the House and three on the part of the Senate be appointed, with au-thority to send for persons and papers to investigate this matter. Mr. King said that a Committee was appointed two years ago for this same purpose, and had made an elaborate report. This Legislature has been in session for twenty-six days, and not a single bill of import-ance has passed this body, and our constituents sent us here expecting us to do something of great import ance to the State.

Mr. Patton had never before heard of objection to information being given on anything of importance. His section has no railroads and had been paying taxes for twenty years to the support of other routes in the State, and now when his section called for a road, he thought it came rather badly for those who had saids to oppose it. Motion to adopt the substitute was lost.

Mr. Oaksmith said that there was something in this resolution that commended itself to him. He had no fears in regard to the result of any such investigation. He spoke at length in favor of the resolution amendment offered, and said that the East was starving as well as the West for those railroad connections. The A report from the State Auditor was received and read.

It was moved by Mr. Strong that the Convention oili introduced by Mr. Means be printed, Air That each member be furnished with, copies.

House adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock. Note.—By mistake two bills were credited in yesterday's reports to Mr. McCubbins that were introduced by

CHALL WE HAVE A CONVEN-TION ?

Of the three departments, among which the powers and duties of the State government are distributed, the judicial department is very decidedly the most important in the influence which it exerts upon the condition and prospects of the people. A bad Governor is a great grievance, but the power of an Executive for harm may generally be controlled, if the representatives of the people are faithful to the trusts committed to them. For any act of misfessance, in his official conduct, he can be brought to trial upon arfieles of impeachment preferred by the House of Representatives and heard by the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, and in case of conviction may, as sentence, be be deposed from office and forever thereafter disqualified from holding day place of trust or profit under the government of the State. In any event his term of office is for four years only, at the expiration of which time he is ineligible to re-election. So a corrupt or incompetent legis fetare is an evil, but bad laws, i if not sooner practically repealed by a decision of the courts declaring them unconstitutional, work, or chase rather, their own repeal in process of time. If they become bardencome and oppressive, the copresentatives by whom they were enseted, will be permitted to retire to private life and men substituted for them who will legislate for the public good rather than for private gain. The term of office of members of the General Assembly is but two years in duration, and an aggrieved people can always, by a change of law-makers, secure a s change of law.

Of all the evils that can befall a people the greatest and most calam-Mous is a corrupt or incompetent judiciary. Governors and legislatom may be corrupt, or incompetent, but so long as the judges of the land are pure in purpose, spotless in integrity and firm and conedicatious in the discharge of the duties of their high places, the liberties of the people are in great part safe from insult, and their rights and privileges from invasion and overthrow.

We need but retrace the history of North Carolina for a lustrum to and a significant instance of the truth of this declaration. Four Tears ago two of the counties of the State were declared in a state of insurrection by the Executive and armed troops cent to occupy them. Handreds of the best citizens in the State were arrested without warstat, ant into loathsome dungeons 134 anbiected to every indignity and hoult which the ingenuity of a ruffan soldiery could invent. Requests for their release were made and refused. Application was then made for write of habeas corpus to issue in their behalf, that the legality of their arrests and detention might be inquired into; but service of the process of the writ was prevented by the intervention of the armed mob that had been gathered to execute the purposes of the Executive. Upon the return of the writ these facts were set forth as the reasons why service had not been made, and an unfaithful judiciary, notwithstanding the fact that there ere thousands of strong arms and stout hearts willing and anxons to uphold its authority, declared its powers exhausted and permitted them to remain as tenants of the common jails of the country, until, to the shame of the State indiciary be it written, the unoffending and suffering citizens of the State were compelled to appeal for protection from the wrong done by the State to a judicial officer of the Federal Government!

At his simple order the doors of the prisons were opened and they came forth released from captivity and restored to their rights as free eitizens of the Republic. These acts are used in demonstration of he influence which the judiciary exerts upon the destinies of the people. The judges of our courts are brought into most intimate relations with people of all classes and conditions. They sit in judgment upon the lives, liberties and properties of their fellow-men, and their official acts are potent, for good or evil, in every condition of society. Not only our business, but our social and political relations, are effected by the zeal and efficiency with which their high duties are performed; and that zeal and efficiency is largely dependent upon the system which they are called upon judicially to administer. We venture to assert as a fact, which we believe, the observation and experience of every one who has watched its practical workings will attest as true, that the present judicial system in North Carolina is altogether unsuited to the condition and necessities of our people. Six years of trial have only served to demonstrate its unfitness to our needs. It is cumbersome, expensive, inconvenient and oppressive. So much has it these defects that in many instances the "law's delays" is a practical denial of justice.

Under the constitution, the judicial power of the State is vested in a Supreme and Superior Courts, in Courts of Justices of the Peace, a curt of Impeachment and Special Courts for cities, which are practically useless and have been abolished wherever established. Passing by the Supreme Court, we come to the consideration of the Superior ourts as they affect the well-doing of the people. By the terms of the constitution, it is made the duty of each Judge of the Superior Courts of the State to hold a term of his court in each county of his district twice a year, the duration of the term being fixed at two weeks. While the constitution does not forbid the holding of more than two terms to the county, the practical effect of fixing the length of the term at two weeks is to limit the courts, as to the whole district, to that number. This has been found a source of great inconvenience and injury. Our people are mainly dependent upon agricultural pursuits for livelihoods. and it is highly disastrous to their interests to be compelled, as witnesses, suitors and grand jurors are frequently compelled to do, to withdraw their attention from their daily avocations for so great a length of time While this is true of all those following farming as a pursuit, the injury is vastly greater to those least able to afford it-to that large class of small farmers who depend upon their own labor for the cultivation and gathering of their crops. In the larger counties of the State the semi annual terms, even of two weeks in duration, have been found inadequate to the transaction of the business of the courts, and the consequence has been the accumulation of cases which remain upon the dockets for years, without trial. In order to remedy this evil and give these matters a hearing, resort has been had to special terms, until these have grown into a nuisance. The fact that for each term of the special court which he may hold. the judge is entitled to compensation, additional to his salary as fixed by law, tends to produce dilatoriness and indifference in our judicial officers; and is, an additional hardship upon those who are called from their homes and labors to attend them. In the smaller counties, such perhaps as Dare, Pamlico, Clay, Swain and others of like size and population, we imagine, the business of the courts could be transacted by semi-annual terms of one law now has it. In illustration of the expense of the present system, let us imagine a case by no means impossible of occurrence. A thriftless, worthless vagabond is detected, on the evening of the adjournment of the Spring Term of Wake Superior Court, in the theft of an article week's length instead of two as the whose value is, say, one dollar. He is arrested upon warrant, carried before a justice for examination, and the evidence against him being uncontradicted and conclusive, is required to give bond for his appearance at the next term of the court to answer the charge. In default of bail he is committed to the common jail of the county, there to await the action of the grand jury in his case. Between the time of arrest and the time of trial six months, or one hundred and eighty days, intervene. The maximum allowed the sheriff for the maintenance of prisoners is, we think, 45 cents a day. Let us suppose it fixed at 40. By the time of trial the cost to the county amounts to seventytwo dollars. The average cost in cases of conviction, as we are informed by a gentleman conversant with. these matters, is about thirty dollars. The minimum punishment inflicted in cases of larceny is four months or one hundred and twenty. days, imprisonment. The cost of maintenance for these days is fortyeight dollars. At the expiration of the time of sentence the prisoner takes the oath of insolvency and is given his freedom. So that by the time the thief is convicted and punished for the larceny of goods of the value of one dollar the tax-payers of the county, in which his trial is had, have been put to the expense of one hundred and fifty dollars.

The true manufacturing section of the Union is the South. Nature declares it so, and her people in the end must appreciate the fact. The mills ought to seek the cotton, and not the cotton the mills, as is now the case. The present course is opposed to reason and to the interest of the consumer.—Balt. Gazette.

The amount of poison orders in the South and West to protect the growing crops is enormous, and is becoming a source of great danger. Paris green is ordered by the ton for the ravages of the potato bug, and in the South large quantities are also used for the cotton crop. It was even feared by some, and among them by the learned Professor Le Conte, that the very ground would be so poisoned as to refuse to produce vegetation: but the fear is without foundation, as subsequent researches and experiments have demonstrated. When poisoning does occur it is by the direct deposition of the poisonous material upon the exterior of the plant, and is never obtained from the soil by the ordinary process of growth. In the trial of Count Von Arnim many interesting facts in regard to Bismarck's "diplomacy;" the causes of the war between France and Germany: the relations of Germany to Italy, are being developed.

WASHINGTON, December 17. House.-A bill was introduced to tablish a Judicial District at Oklahama, Indian Territory.

By a joint resolution Kalakau debate. Adjourned. SENATE-In the Senate to-day Mr. Sherman said he frequently had questions put to him in regard to the tariff bill, and he desired now to state that the Conference Committee on that bill had no power to go beyond the subject matter in dispute between the two houses, the first of which was for modification of the tobacco tax, the next was in regard to the tax on brokers sales and the third in regard to the tax on hops.

The bill to provide a new government for the District of Columbia was discussed. The President:-I respectfully ask that you will use your influence to the early departure for Louisiana of the select committee appointed yes-terday. BRADLEY'S PATENT MADE FROM Pure h te Lead, Linseed Oil and Zinc, and Always Ready for Use.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS: From Prot. W. G. Simmons, Wake Forest College, North Carolina. WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, N. C., October 4, 1873, Mr. C. P. Knight—Dear SIr: We have for several months been using your Bradley's Patent Enamel Patet on our College Building, and are well pleased with it. Though it was applied by one having no experience in such work, yet we have a good job. We shall continue to use it—believing that in point of economy, durability and facility of application, it is superior to any other pigment offered in the market.

W. G. SIMMONS.

From Messrs. Engelhard & Saunders. Editors and Proprietors Journal. WILMINGTON, N. C., December, 26, 1873. We desire to call especial attention to the advertisement of "Bradley's Patent Enam-I Paint." We can recommend it from a knowledge of its merits. Some of the employees of this office having purchaset some of this paint from Mr. C. P. Knight, of Baitimore, have us-d it and speak in the highest terms of it, after a trainf several months. While it is as durable as ordinary paint, it has a much finer finish, and its cost and convenience will recommend it to all in need of paint.

From S. McGill, M. D. THE PLAINS, FAQUIER Co., VA., Feb. 6, 1873.

Mr. C. P. Knight—Sir: The paint came safe to hand as ordered, 2 kegs, 5 gallon each, and 3 buckets, I gallon each. As practice was si-ck, I dit the job myself. Two weeks (not constant work) completens e house, two c ais; the last coat I applied thick, and it is now generally conceded that, for "enamel," like hardness, and body and harmony of colors, there is not a hand-somer j-b in the phase. I have saved sixty-five dollars by the operation—which is an item just now with the Southern people. It should be generally adopted in this state. Any country lad can apply it. I have never disbled in such stock as "testimonials," but I feel so foreiby the great adaptability of your 'Enamel Paint' to the wants of our people—in excetlency of material, in ceanty of color, and in the fact of its being "ready mixed," that I give you permission (if it is desirable to you) to make what use you think proper—fthis letter.

Very respectfully and truly.
